

Praise for Yin: Completing the Leadership Journey and Lisa Marshall

"I LOVE YIN: Completing the Leadership Journey! Thank-you so so so much. It is super empowering...a great asset to me and a gift to support what I stand for...such a beautiful and brilliant piece of work." Lynn Twist, author The Soul of Money

"Yin – the part of life to which we pay no attention — is the feminine power in the leadership journey, the source of our voice and our ability to act. Yin, Completing the Leadership Journey, is a guided reflective journey, and a workbook designed to help you reach for the balance that is so desperately needed. "Yin, inspires a deep sense of calm commingled with an urgent desire to DO...to nurture, to grow, to lead from a place of peace, to drive goals from a nurturing sense of wholeness and wellness. Lisa's message is a call to action for us to focus both within ourselves and outward towards our community to fiercely protect, to heal as only we can, to boldly nurture and support, to teach. We OWE these gifts of our work to society to support change and growth through the coming generations while living in balance as described in Yin." Elizabeth Paulson, manager, defense contractor

"I opened Yin: Completing the Leadership Journey 30 minutes ago, and I haven't stopped reading...What a wonderfully big little book!" Charles Feltman, author, The Thin Book of Trust
